Brothers & Sisters;

We have received numerous calls concerning local management's position to document discussions pertaining to company rules by placing a CR-1 entry into the employee's personal file without any rule violations by the employee. Your Local Union Representatives find this to be improper and will address this issue with local management.

We want to assure the membership that our goal has been and always will be to represent the best interests of the membership. In the meantime do not place yourself in a position that can jeopardize your employment. As with any discussion, please have a union representative present should management want to speak with you?

I will notify the membership of the outcome of the meeting.

Fraternally,

John Iuliano
