AMT DAY is May 24th 2011

“Aircraft Maintenance Technician Day” was recognized in New York several years ago. The intent of “AMT DAY” was for recognition and respect for our profession. The last 4 years or better have shown that our profession is being taken for granted and recent proposals by the company demonstrate the lack of respect towards our profession. Under these conditions we see no reason to celebrate "AMT DAY" with the same company that’s trying to destroy the profession.
